

UCC “Continuation Window” June 30, 2006 Cut-off

The Department of Licensing, UCC Office, is aware of the controversy surrounding the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) Revised Article 9 Section 705(c) continuation filing issue. Our office has decided to adopt the International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA) Board of Directors’ recommendation to accept continuations within the six-month window provided in Article 9 Section 515(d) and not to “open the window for continuations” on January 1, 2006. Please contact your legal advisor with questions related to this UCC RA 9 transition issue. For a more detailed discussion of the issues, please see the following resources:

- “An Alert \(But Not An Alarm\): A Filing Transition Problem” by Harry C. Sigman
- “UCC § 9-705 Transition Filing Problem – Some Additional Thoughts” by Harry C. Sigman
- IACA UCC Section 7-905 Information

Note: “An Alert (But Not An Alarm)” originally appeared in the September 2005 UCC Bulletin, published by West, a Thomson Business. “UCC § 9-705 Transition Filing Problem” originally appeared in the November 2005 UCC Bulletin, published by West, a Thomson Business. Both articles are provided with permission of the author, Harry C. Sigman.